

GDPR Blues

There are no more crowds in our library anymore
What a change, never had that before
Grandma and grandpa stare at their laptop
Browsing Facebook instead of tabloid
Such a progress gets me my
Librarian's blues

The music department is deserted totally
Not a single note sound can be heard locally
Everybody's at home, warm and easy
But us librarians are bored like crazy
Such a progress gets me my
Librarian's blues

This is the end, the end of the library
Killed by GDPR, that's the final parry
Remote login and open access
That's unbelievable, what a craziness
Thanks to GDPR for my
Librarian's blues

With AiP Wellness I'm not afraid of GDPR
If we're audited we'd completely comply
Resources from Albertina make a good sense
And our readers don't want anything else
In such a way I've got no more
Librarian's blues

Please confirm our double opt-in consent
Shoe size, eye colour and hair scent
Phone numbers and your uniqueness
Without our e-news your nights would be sleepless
Happily ever after with no
Librarian's blues
